48268 'Captured Heinkel'

This aircraft was captured by American forces in the final days of World War II in Europe. A crew from the 56th Fighter Group USAAF delivered it to their base in Boxted, Essex, where they painted it in their unit's colors. When the time came to return to the USA in September 1945, they faced abandoning the aircraft. Unwilling to leave it behind, the crew took a bold risk—without permission, they flew their He 111 to RAF North Weald. Surprised British pilots discovered it the next morning on their airfield's parking area. Thanks to this daring move, the aircraft was preserved. It was later exhibited at the German aircraft exhibition at RAE Farnborough, and in 1978 found its permanent home at the Royal Air Force Museum in London, where it remains today.

ACRYLIC PAINTS

- Waterbased acrylic paint
- The paint is prepared for application with a brush from a bottle, for an airbrush dilut with water or acrylic thinner 40 - 60%
- ICM paints has a high coverage. All colors can be mixed with each other to achieve the most accurate shade.
- 77 colors in range + 3 varnishes (gloss, matt, satin) in 12 ml bottles: including 6 clear colors, 10 basic colors, 11 metallic.
- The colors are permanent and waterproof, odorless.
- Resistant to oils, enamels, washes, solvents or any potentially aggressive technique.

- ICM paints have a matt surface after drying. To give a glossy or satin texture, an appropriate varnish must be used.
- For best results, the surface should be pre-coated with a primer, on which the paint is then applied.
- To facilitate the creation of various effects and colormodulation, our primers are available in 6 di-terent colors, most commonly used in modeling.
- When using an airbrush, the paint should be thinned with ICM thinner 40-60%.
- The acrylic thinner is odorless and can be used to clean the airbrush.
